

"DOPE FIENDS" GET DRUG IN BALTIMORE

Police Deny Hilton Charges and Say Pharmacy Law Is Enforced in the District.

Washington's police officers deny emphatically the charges of Samuel L. Hilton that drugs are sold to "dope fiends" by some dental supply companies in this city. A high officer in the police department said yesterday that the law regulating the sale of opium and morphine is strictly enforced, and that if the drug is sold it comes from Baltimore through private parties. The police say they cannot stop this traffic.

Complaint Made.
According to Frank C. Henry, president of the board of pharmacy, the drug traffic has been brought to the attention of Edward H. Thomas, corporation counsel for the District.

"I have been informed of some traffic in this line, but I have not any evidence personally," said Mr. Henry. "I know it was possible a short time ago for persons addicted to morphine and cocaine to obtain their supplies through dental stores. It is my belief, however, that most of the dental houses have been innocent in this sale, as they did not know the law."

Samuel L. Hilton, author of the statement that drugs are obtainable in Washington, last night said he had evidence, which is unable to disclose at this time, that the traffic in narcotics in Washington has been large.

Law Is Enforced.
That the police are doing all in their power to suppress the illegal sale of narcotics is assured by the authorities. The dental houses are closely watched for any sale of the drugs, and it is believed no sales are made except to persons using them for legitimate purposes.

Should Mr. Hilton be able to prove his charges in the drug traffic, severe measures will be taken to prevent sales in the future.

According to statistics, the drug habit has increased dangerously all over the country, and Washington is said to be no means exempt.

NEWS OF ALEXANDRIA

Jesse Turner Nabbed for Sale of Wagon.

HUSBAND GOES TO YORK

Samuel Harrington Will Bring Elopement Wife Back to Home—One-armed Colored Man Held on Charge of Selling Liquor on Sunday—Beligious Soldiers to Be Arraigned.

Alexandria, Va., April 9.—Jesse Turner, thirty-six years old, was arrested today on a warrant issued on complaint of W. P. Husted, of Mount Ida, charging Turner with disposing of a wagon, harness, and horse blanket belonging to Husted. Turner will be given a hearing tomorrow morning before Justice J. C. Burwell, of Alexandria County.

Samuel Harrington left at 7 o'clock tonight for New York, Pa., to bring his wife back to this city. Mrs. Harrington was arrested in New York several days ago, she having been one of a trio of elopers who were arrested in that city. The women were afterward arraigned in the Police Court in New York and fined $30 each. So far as known no arrangements have been made for the release of Mrs. Harrington, who was also fined $30, and who, according to reports from New York, is being held in custody in default of the payment of her fine.

North Green, a one-armed negro, was arrested tonight by Police Officer Beach, Campbell, and Holt, on a charge of selling and disposing liquor on Sunday. Two pint bottles, partially filled with gin, is the evidence that will be offered in the Police Court tomorrow morning. Green, the police say, has been a walking barroom on the Sabbath. Green, however, denies the charge.

S. L. Brown and William A. Smith, soldiers from Fort Washington, will be given a hearing in the Police Court tomorrow morning on a charge of assaulting Coleman Joyce, a private, stationed at Edinburg, Va., six miles south of Alexandria.

The three other soldiers arrested last night as suspects were released, following an investigation. It is said that a third soldier wanted by the police in connection with this case is now at Fort Washington, having eluded arrest. At the hospital tonight it was stated that Joyce was not seriously injured.

The city tax ordinance will again come up for final disposition at a meeting of the city council held Tuesday night next. It is more than probable that the street and general laws committee will report on the ordinance making it obligatory on property owners to tap sewers passing their property.

A delegation from Lafayette Chapter, No. 14, Royal Arch Masons, will Tuesday night pay a fraternal visit to Mount Vernon Chapter, this city, and confer the degree of the order on three candidates.

Large congregations attended the various churches to-day in observance of Palm Sunday.

Funeral services for Courtland Lukens will be held at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon from his home near Woodlawn, Fairfax County, Va. Interment will be in Ivy Hill Cemetery.

The funeral of William B. Corae will be held at 10 o'clock to-morrow morning from St. Paul's Episcopal Church. Services will be conducted by the rector, Rev. P. P. Phillips.

Divorcees Not Excluded.
London, April 9.—King George has received Queen Victoria's regulation excluding from court persons who have been divorced. The Victorian rule was somewhat relaxed in the reign of King Edward VII.

PLANS AERIAL LABORATORY.

Philanthropists Will Aid Research Work in This City.

New York, April 9.—According to Hudson Maxim, president of the Aeronautical Society, the endowment and establishment of a permanent aeronautical laboratory at Washington will be announced at the dinner to be given by the Aeronautical Society at the Hotel Astor on Thursday, April 13.

If President Taft is present at the dinner he will be asked to make the formal announcement of the details. It is further announced that the laboratory will be endowed by one of the most conspicuous philanthropists in America.

SURPRISES PLANNED BY HOUSE MINORITY

"Committee on Committees" Arranges Programme.

Although there is officially no committee on committees on the Republican side of the House, a "trump" organization of that sort worked all day yesterday in the office of Minority Leader Mann at the Capitol, with the result that a complete list of the Republican assignments probably will be handed to Chairman Underwood at the opening of the session of the House to-day.

Representative Mann, to whom the Republican caucus assigned the duty of naming the minority membership of each committee, called to his aid former Speaker Cannon and Representative Asher Hindes. As an unofficial committee on committees the three labored long and earnestly. It is reported that such time as they did not spend in juggling the names of their colleagues to make them fit the committees, they used in working out a plan of action toward prevailing on the Democrats to allow a greater Republican representation on the committees. They may have a few surprise moves to make on this line when the House opens to-day.

"Uncle Joe" Cannon made up the committee of the Sixty-third Congress, and Asher Hindes, as clerk to the Speaker's table, rendered much assistance. Representative Mann at that time also did much advising, and secured for himself the good place of chairman of the Interstate Commerce Committee. This year the combination practically is the same, although James Robert Mann is the boss this time, and Asher Hindes puts in his claim to be chairman of the Interstate Commerce Committee.

There was no change reported yesterday concerning the policy of Minority Leader Mann to allow the insurgents their share of the committee assignments, and not to follow the course of Mr. Cannon two years ago and visit reprisals on several of that faith. The insurgents are to have their wishes gratified up to a reasonable degree, and "no questions asked."

Representative Mann is still on the warpath, however, concerning the inclusion of the Democrats to take all the benefit of increased committee membership, and intimates that there will be some fireworks from his side of the chamber before the committees finally are elected.

YOUTHFUL HERO MAY DIE.

Struck by Train in Saving Girl from Death on Tracks.

Ostonsing, N. Y., April 9.—Arthur Kingsley is dying in Ostonsing Hospital from injuries sustained this afternoon, when he saved Edna Avery from death. He snatched the girl, who was his friend, from beneath a train, but was unable to follow her to safety.

Kingsley, who but seventeen years of age, was walking along the tracks at Scarborough, Miss. Avery was with him. They saw a train approaching and crossed to another track. Kingsley looked around and saw an express train upon them on the track upon which they were.

Without an instant's hesitation he grabbed Miss Avery by the arm and pulled her to safety. He was struck by the train, but he could follow her as he was struck. His skull was fractured and an arm broken. Miss Avery was unhurt.

Mrs. Lucy N. Reading Dead.

Special to The Washington Herald.

Rockville, Md., April 9.—Mrs. Lucy N. Reading, wife of Hugh Reading, died this morning at her home, near Harnettown, of pneumonia. She was fifty-four years old, and was survived by her husband and a son, John G. Reading. The funeral will take place to-morrow afternoon at 2 o'clock from Humphrey's chapel, Rockville. Mrs. Reading was, before her marriage, a Miss Blanchard, of Baltimore.

300 Perish at Religious Fete.

Bombay, April 9.—A small thatched building, in which 300 people were holding a religious festival, caught fire this afternoon and 300 perished in the flames. The first cry of fire started a rush for the exit, and it is believed that several were killed in the panic that ensued before the flames reached them.

HIBERNIANS HOLD ANNIVERSARY MEET

Sullivan Urges Irishmen to Unite in Order.

SONGS OF OLD ERIN SUNG

Commemorate Twenty-fourth Anniversary—Women's Auxiliary Entertains—Kilkenny Extols A. O. H. Society Brings Increased Happiness and Prosperity, Says Speaker.

Patriotic exercises, commemorative of the twenty-fourth anniversary of the forming of Division No. 4, Ancient Order of Hibernians, in this city, were held yesterday afternoon in Eagles' Hall, Sixth and K streets northwest, when the officers and members, aided by the women's auxiliary, gave a program of Irish songs and recitations.

Addresses, extolling the work of the Ancient Order of Hibernians were made by Francis J. Kilkenny and Joseph D. Sullivan, officers of the Irish Home-coming Association.

Sullivan Urges Joining.
Mr. Sullivan spoke on the benefits to be derived from organizations by the individual, and urged all patriotic Irishmen to become members of the Ancient Order of Hibernians.

"Civil, educational, charitable, and social organizations are all worthy of your particular attention," said Mr. Sullivan. "They have for their chief object the improvement of conditions, the betterment of mankind, the increase of his happiness and prosperity."

"Do not join organizations for the good they will do you, but for the aid and strength you bring to them, and if you bring to them the same qualities which have made you successful in business, both you and they will derive much mutual benefit."

MAKES EIGHT FLIGHTS.

Janus, in Rex Smith Biplane, Sails Over Potomac Park.

Eight short flights, none of them lasting more than two minutes, were made yesterday on Potomac Park by Anthony Janus in a Rex Smith biplane. An altitude of from 50 to 100 feet was maintained during the flights.

Raoul Le Maht, one of the assistants in charge of the machine, tried out the engine for a short time, although he did not fly. Flights will be made today if the weather permits, although it is not known whether any passengers will be taken up.

No passengers were permitted in the machine yesterday.

DEBT OF CHURCH PAID BY PARISH

Campaign for Funds Brings $15,000 Subscription.

One of the most active financial campaigns ever undertaken by a Washington church came to an abrupt end yesterday when Rev. W. R. Wedderburn, of the Episcopal Church, announced that the $15,000 indebtedness on the parsonage of the church had been cleared.

The congregation, responding to a vigorous appeal of the pastor, donated, either through private subscription or at the offerings yesterday, the remainder of the sum to be raised. This brings the church entirely out of debt.

At the meeting several months ago the executive board of the church directed a general campaign for funds to lift the debt of the parsonage, and every member of the congregation was appealed to personally.

Mr. Wedderburn declined last night to give the names of the individual subscribers of the fund, he declared that there were several persons who had subscribed yesterday $1,000 each, and one who had subscribed $500.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.

U. S. Dept. Agriculture, Weather Bureau.

Forecast for Monday, April 10.—A. M. The weather has cleared in the Atlantic States, and fair, cool weather prevails tonight from the Mississippi River westward. Light frost occurred Sunday morning as far south as Tennessee, and freezing temperatures were general to the northward. All through the week, weather conditions between the Mississippi River and the Rocky Mountains, but with rapidly falling pressure and rising temperature, the weather will be generally clear, showery weather over the middle and northern districts.
